SUMMARY

Local authorities and clinical commissioning groups (CCGs) have equal and joint duties to prepare both Joint Strategic Needs Assessments (JSNAs) and Joint Health and Wellbeing Strategies (JHWSs) through the Health and Wellbeing Board. A JHWS should take into account the needs of the local population as set out in the JSNA.

The Havering JHWS expires in 2018.

Taking into account recent developments in the structure of the health and social care landscape and anticipated changes to the HWB membership (bulleted below), it is recommended to extend the current strategy for a further 12 months to allow the HWB sufficient opportunity to consider what should be prioritised in a new strategy.

It is further proposed that, in order to prepare for discussions regarding the priorities of the new strategy, the HWB receives a presentation on the JSNA in July 2018.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That the HWB agrees to extend the current strategy for a further 12 months (to end 2019)
2. That the HWB receives a presentation on the JSNA in July 2018

REPORT DETAIL

This report recommends extending the current strategy for a further 12 months, which will allow sufficient opportunity to consider what to prioritise, consider implications of recent developments in the structure of the health and social care landscape, and take into account anticipated changes to the HWB membership, including:

- local elections in May 2018
- establishment of BHR-wide CCGs, within wider STP framework
- Integrated Care Partnership Board now championing development of Accountable Care System, supported by Joint (CCG and three borough) Commissioning Board and Provider Alliance (including BHRUHT, NELFT and GP networks).
- London-wide Devolution deal

The current strategy has a broad range of priorities, which would continue to inform the scheduling of reports received at HWB while a new strategy is being developed. Thus the routine business of the HWB would remain in its current form uninterrupted while the HWB members consider the approach that they wish to take in developing a new strategy. The approach could include, for example, development sessions to explore a prioritisation process.
