1. SUMMARY

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England (LGBCE) is undertaking a review of the London Borough of Havering's local government electoral arrangements. The outcome of the review being implemented in readiness for the 2022 Council elections.

In September 2019, the Council recommended to the Commission that it retain its existing cohort size of 54 (Part 1 submission). The Commission subsequently informed the Council that it was minded to agree to the proposal.

For its Part 2 submission on warding arrangements, the Council proposes a pattern of 20 wards across a total membership of 52 councillors. This results in a mix of 2 and 3 Member wards. The proposal gives a councillor / elector ratio of 1:4014 (by 2025).

The Council considers that it has drawn up a ward arrangement which the Boundary Commission will find acceptable by meeting the statutory criteria for a successful electoral review.

2. ABOUT THE BOROUGH

Havering is an outer London borough and the third largest in London, comprising 43 square miles. It is mainly characterised by suburban development, with almost half of the area dedicated to open green space, particularly to the east of the borough. Havering has around 108 parks and green spaces, with 14 parks having 'Green Flag' status.

The borough is 50% Green Belt and resembles Essex in that it has clear Town Centres rather than the continuous mass of housing that makes up the inner London Boroughs. This brings constraints that do not exist in Inner London, such as increased travel time from one urban area to another. As a result, car usage is high, with 77% of households having at least one car and 32.8% having 2 or more cars – the second highest proportion reported in London.

The borough has good transport links, with a number of railway lines traversing it in a broadly east-west direction, notably the lines from Colchester and Southend into central London. The main arterial A12 and A13 roads pass through the borough, while the nearby M25 motorway forms part of its eastern and northern boundary. The River Thames forms its southern boundary

The principal town, Romford, is densely populated and is an area of major metropolitan retail and night time entertainment. The southern part of Havering is within the London Riverside section of the Thames Gateway redevelopment area and will be an area of increasing development and population change.

Havering is a relatively affluent borough with pockets of deprivation to the north (Gooshays and Heaton wards) and south (South Hornchurch). There is a gap in life expectancy between the most and least deprived decile within Havering of 7.9 years for males and 5.5 years for females.

The estimated population of Havering is 256,039 and rising - the borough is predicted to have the 10th fastest growth in population of all English authorities (detailed population projections are provided in the next section). Havering has the oldest population in London; almost 24% of its population is 60 plus, compared to a London average of 15%, and 23% nationally. This places a particularly high demand on Havering's health and social care services, compared to other boroughs. Approximately a third of the Council's budget is spent on social care, which will significantly increase in line with the projected demographic changes: further increases are expected in both the older (65 plus) and children age groups.

Around 33% (8,800) of children in the borough live in poverty. Approximately 19% of working age residents have a declared disability/long term illness and Havering has one of the highest rates for serious disabilities among London boroughs.

The current local government finance system has not kept pace with the population changes the borough has faced, with the formula having been frozen since 2013, therefore not reflecting the significant change in demand for services. Havering is one of the nine lowest funded outer London boroughs and has seen the fastest growing child numbers of all the London Boroughs for the last four years in a row - a 45% increase.

3 SUMMARY OF PROPOSED WARDING ARRANGEMENTS

The current Council size (54 councillors) and warding arrangements (18 wards) were determined by the previous electoral review in 1999. In keeping with the general trend across London all wards comprised of three Members.

Greater London Authority (GLA) projections are the only available projections at ward level, making them the only available data source for London boroughs where any analysis is required at ward level, including for boundary reviews. GLA recommends the housing-led variant as default; however the GLA also provides local authorities with projections based on the development trajectory of their choice. These projections are designated “BPO” or Borough Preferred Option, and are not made public due to the potential sensitivity of the underlying development assumptions provided by the local authority. Where a borough has BPO then this is the preferred option for population projections as it is considered more robust, having utilised the most current local council development data.

The last BPO for Havering was produced by the GLA in February 2019. The housing trajectory provided at the time has not significantly changed and therefore this remains our best data source for population projections.

Using the GLA’s 2017-based Borough Preferred Option Projections for Havering, the expected growth in the age 18+ population between 2019 and 2025 is 8.2% - an additional 16,646 adults.

These projections are shown at ward level in the table below. While the rise in the overall 18+ population for the borough is 8.2%, there is a great deal of variance between wards, with South Hornchurch and Romford Town projecting the greatest increases, while in some wards reductions are anticipated.

The Council's focus when reviewing its warding arrangements is drawn to the Commission's statutory criteria. Those being:

- Electoral equality (a consistent number of electors per councillor);
- Community Identity (strong ward boundaries that reflect communities) and
- Effective and convenient local government (coherent wards).

The Council's aim when drawing up new warding arrangements is to ensure electoral equality where possible (a ratio of 4014 electors per Member being the optimal number).

That is however a difficult task and in the Council's view should not undermine the objectives of the remaining statutory criteria.

The Council recognises that communities develop over time and that residents identify themselves with the area in which they reside, work or socialise. Those communities are shaped in part by nature (rivers, parkland, etc) and/or by man-made features (roads, bus routes, footpaths, railway lines and stations, etc) but also by the daily activities which people undertake as part of everyday life. Walking to the local shops, going to school, visiting a library, participating in sports at the local sports centre and attending places of religious worship are some of the activities to name but a few which shape the places where people live and the communities they are part of.

In attempting to devise new warding arrangements, the Council has sought to create wards which reflect the communities that residents would associate with. In doing so, the Council has reviewed not only existing warding patterns but also those which existed at the time of the previous boundary review in 1999. It has also utilised polling districts as building blocks to shape the development of wards where possible.

The Council therefore proposes to the Commission that the number of wards increase to 20, with a reduction in the total number of councillors to 52.

The warding pattern, in the form of a borough-wide map, is shown overleaf along with a table detailing the percentage variances for each ward:

5. Ward by Ward Proposals

- a. Beam Park (2 Member ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 8,158 (2% variance)

Beam Park is a newly created ward located to the south of the borough, running along the borough boundary with the London Borough of Barking & Dagenham to the west and the River Thames to the south, both of which are strong natural ward borders. To the east, the boundary runs along the River Beam to the Thames and is another natural boundary line. To the north, the A125 Rainham Road separates the ward from Elm Park with the exception of Orchard Village.

As part of the Council's housing-based regeneration programme, the area immediately south of the A1306 and north of the A13 Arterial Road, to the west of Marsh Way will become Beam Park. Redeveloped to accommodate 3,000 new homes the site will also include a new railway station, framed by a high-quality public square, as well as a medical centre, two schools, retail spaces, a gym, nursery, community facilities, and a multi-faith space.

To the south of the A13 Arterial Road the character of the ward changes dramatically and is dominated by industrial units which lead to the River Thames.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- CEME
- Tesco Retail Distribution Centre
- Newtons Primary School

b. Brooklands (2 Member ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 7,986 (-1% variance)

Brooklands ward is situated to the west of Romford town centre, with the London Boroughs of Barking & Dagenham and Redbridge running along its western border. It is predominantly residential in character with green spaces found at Cottons Park and Westlands Playing Fields.

To the north is the A12 which is the principal arterial road connecting London with Essex and beyond. The A12 also provides a strong ward boundary between the centre of Romford and the north of the borough. To the east of the ward is the Romford ring road which also serves as a significant ward boundary to the town centre and the residential areas of the ward which abut it.

To its southern boundary is the Greater Anglia / TfL rail line which operates between London and Essex / East Anglia.

Residential communities can be found north of the railway line and to the west of the town centre ring road and North Street.

Prominent landmarks within the ward include the Romford Greyhound Stadium which has been hosting events since 1929 and has stadium capacity for over 1,700 people. St. Edward's CofE Secondary School is also located in the ward with the cohort made up of children from across Havering and east London.

c. Chase Cross & Collier Row (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 11,718 (-3% variance)

Collier Row & Chase Cross ward encompasses a significant proportion of the north of the borough, running from the border with London Borough of Redridge to the west, skirting along the Harold Hill estate and Noak Hill to the east via Lower Bedfords Road. It is typically open space (a mixture of farms and parkland) in character with residential communities to the south-west in the upper areas of Collier Row and to its northern boundaries with the village of Havering-atte-Bower. To the west of the ward running vertically is the River Rom which meanders into central Romford.

There are two large parkland areas, Bedfords Park and Havering Country Park, which are key features of the ward, separated by the B175 road which runs into central Romford to the south and north into western Essex.

The village of Havering-atte-Bower is steeped in history dating back to the 11th Century when Edward the Confessor established a hunting lodge in the area which would later become Havering Palace. It is also home to Dame Tipping School, one of the smallest school cohorts in the borough, founded in 1891 by Dame Anne Tipping who was daughter of Thomas Chief, a governor of the Tower of London.

The ward has a more typically suburban feel with greater density housing with terraced roads running off Lodge Lane and Clockhouse Lane. The area also houses the Highfield Estate and its high-rise tower blocks.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- St Francis Hospice
- Bower House
- The Green (Havering-atte-Bower)
- The Forest Row Centre
- The Bower Academy
- Clockhouse Primary School
- Collier Row Methodist Church
- Oasis Pinewood Academy

d. Cranham (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 11,801 (-2% variance)

Cranham ward is located toward the east of the borough with its eastern border running along the borough boundary with the M25 motorway and Thurrock Council. Cranham's residential community is found north of the TfL and c2c railway lines with large areas of woodland to the north of the ward beyond the A127 and to the south east either side of the M25 motorway. Sport and recreational facilities are available at Upminster Golf Course and Cranham and Upminster Hall Playing Fields.

To the south of the ward is Upminster TfL Underground and c2c Railway Station which connects train into London and beyond to Essex.

Cranham is home to one of the borough's conservation areas. Residential density is greatest in roads adjoining Front Lane, Severn Drive, Moor Lane and Avon Road where local amenities such as newsagents, off licences and takeaways are located, along with the Cranham Health Centre which serves the local area.

To the west of the ward along Hall Lane, residential areas become more spacious in character.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Upminster Tithe Barn Museum
- Upminster Train depot
- Cranham Social Hall
- St Luke's Church
- Hall Mead School
- Engayne Primary School
- The James Oglethorpe Primary School

e. Elm Park (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 10,871 (-10% variance)

Elm Park ward is located to the west of the borough running in part along the borough boundary with the London Borough of Barking & Dagenham. Elm Park's modest size compared to other wards is reflective of its population density.

At the heart of the residential community is Elm Park TfL Underground Station which operates on the District Line. Shopping parades and local amenities, including Elm Park Library, are located in close proximity to the Underground Station, along Elm Park Avenue.

To the north of the ward is Harrow Lodge Park and its boating lake, which serve as its principal recreational activity.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Abbs Cross School
- Harrow Lodge Bowls Club
- Benhurst Primary School
- St Alban RC Church

f. Emerson Park & Ardleigh Green (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 12,396 (3% variance)

Emerson Park ward is located towards the centre of the borough; north of Hornchurch and west of Cranham. It is almost exclusively residential in character. Low density housing with large detached properties and wide tree-lined streets being common features of the ward; prime examples being Sylvan Avenue and Nelmes Way.

To the east and north east of the ward are large open spaces either side of the A127 Arterial Road. The eastern boundary follows the River Ingrebourne and is a natural boundary line which separates Emerson Park from Cranham and Harold Wood wards.

Emerson Park has a railway station to its southern boundary which allows travellers to connect to Romford and Upminster on the TfL shuttle which runs a limited service during the week and on Saturday. The railway line doubles up as a strong divide between neighbouring wards and is a natural boundary line.

Local amenities and convenience stores can be found on Butts Green Road and Ardleigh Green Road.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Emerson Park Community Hall (in Haynes Park)
- Havering College of Further Education
- The Campion School
- All Saints Church
- Ardleigh Green Baptist Church
- Nelmes Primary School

g. Gidea Park & Rise Park (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 13,922 (16% variance)

One of the largest wards in the borough, Gidea Park & Rise Park is located north and east of Romford town centre, running north of the A12 Arterial Road from Chase Cross to Heaton Grange.

One of the residential areas found in the north of the ward along Main Road is the Gidea Park Conservation Area. An area of architectural significance between Raphaels Park and Romford Golf Course, the Romford Garden Suburb was constructed in 1910–11 on the Gidea Hall and Balgores estates as an exhibition of town planning. Influenced by the 'Garden Cities Movement' it was a demonstration of the need for more and better social housing.

To the north of the A12 and to its eastern boundary is Heaton Grange. Distinctly different in character from the Romford Garden Suburb it connects to the Harold Hill estate, a post-war construction designed to house the overspill population of London. Much of the estate's architecture and planning remains to this day.

To the west and either side of the B175 Havering Road into Rise Park where residential areas where the population densities are not as high in comparison to Heaton Grange.

There are notable green spaces with Risebridge and Romford Golf Courses, Gidea Park Sports Ground and the popular Raphaels Park.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Marshalls Park School
- St Edward's Primary School
- Hilldene Primary School
- Rise Park Infant School
- Parklands Junior School

Projected Electorate (2025): 8,114 (1% variance)

Gooshays ward is located in the north east area of the borough and along with Hildene & Heaton and Gidea Park & Rise Park wards shares the area known as Harold Hill . Harold Hill was a planned community, conceived as part of the Greater London Plan in 1944, essentially an estate to house the overspill population of London. Much of the estate's architecture and planning remains to this day and its residents identify themselves as being part of the Harold Hill community.

The manor of Gooshays, upon which the existing ward boundary is loosely based, dates back many centuries but its identity is retained in the name of the road which runs through along its western boundary (Gooshays Drive).

The ward sits directly north of the A12 Arterial Road and its eastern border runs along the M25 motorway, both of which provide strong identifiable ward boundaries.

Despite its dense population and estate design, much of the ward is given to large green open spaces, including Dagnam Park and Duck Wood Nature Reserve. The open spaces are well used by local residents and are associated as being a core component of the ward.

The ward is home to the Central Park Leisure Centre and swimming pool which is popular with local residents and a key landmark in the Harold Hill area and in the ward itself. The leisure centre is located on Dagnam Park Drive which is the principal road running through the ward.

To the north of the ward is the area of Noak Hill. Distinctly different from the built-up estate described previously it is a sparsely populated area of the borough with a number of farm dotted to the north of Noak Hill Road and Chequers Road.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Paines Brook
- Havering College (Quarles Campus)
- Ardleigh Green and Noak Hill Cricket Clubs
- Maylands Golf Course
- The Drapers Academy
- Drapers' Pyrgo Primary School
- The Manor
- Myplace

i. Hacton & Airfield (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 12,307 (2% variance)

Located south of the centre of Hornchurch, with Elm Park to the west and Upminster to the east. Hacton & Airfield ward is comprises the Racecourse Estate to the north and the Airfield Estate to the south and west.

The Racecourse Estate was built in the years immediately before and after the Second World War on what had been Hacton Farm, the estate lies to the north-west of the River Ingrebourne which traverses the ward.

Towards the south of the ward is the popular Hornchurch Country Park which is a 104.5-hectare park on the former site of RAF Hornchurch airfield. During World War II the station was a Sector Airfield of RAF Fighter Command's 11 Group, covering London and the south east of England during the Battle of Britain in 1940. Closed in 1962, the airfield was extensively landscaped to create Hornchurch Country Park. The area immediately to the west of the Country Park has been redeveloped into a residential area and is known as the Airfield Estate, referencing its aviation past.

Along the majority of its northern border runs the London Underground District Line and the c2c railway line. Upminster Bridge and Hornchurch Underground Stations are located along the northern ward boundary.

To the west of the ward lies the now derelict St. George's Hospital site which is due to be converted into residential land and which adjoins the Hornchurch Country Park.

The ward is predominantly residential in character with shopping precincts located along Central Drive and Suttons Lane.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Gaynes Parkway
- Sanders School
- Suttons Primary School
- Hacton Primary School
- Scotts Primary School

j. Harold Wood (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 9,682 (-20% variance)

Harold Wood is located towards the east of the borough, running along the A12 Arterial Road and the A127 Arterial Road, both of which merge at the Gallows Corner roundabout.

Harold Wood train station sits within the northern half of the ward and is the congregation point for much daily activity in the ward given its links into Romford and central London. A parade of shops is also located in close proximity to the station, as is the local bus terminus. The area also includes the local Post Office and library.

The residential areas of the ward are confined to the north and west in close proximity to the train station and the A12 and north of the River Ingrebourne. Harold Wood hospital closed at the end of 2006 and has been replaced by a residential project called Kings Park, an NHS polyclinic and the Havering campus of London South Bank University. St. Peter's RC Church is located in close proximity along Gubbins Lane.

The south and east of the ward is predominantly parkland and green open spaces.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Harold Wood Cricket Club
- Gallows Corner Retail Park and Industrial Estate
- Pages Wood
- Tylers Common
- Redden Court School
- Harold Wood Primary School

k. Heath Park (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 13,484 (12% variance)

Heath Park is residential and retail / commercial in character. Part of Romford town centre features prominently within the ward and is a vibrant shopping, business, leisure and entertainment centre attracting 21 million shoppers per year.

Residential areas stretch along the line of the TfL and Greater Anglia railway to the north of the Town Centre towards Gidea Park and to the Gallows Corner roundabout. A key feature of ward is Gidea Park Train Station which connects local residents with Romford and stations into central London.

In addition to Romford town centre, local amenities and shops can be found in close proximity to the Drill roundabout, Balgores Lane to Station Road where Gidea Park Train Station is located, and also at the junction between Squirrels Heath Lane and Butts Green Road.

There are a number of key roads which assist in identifying communities within the ward. Heath Park Road, Balgores Lane and Upper Brentwood Road fall into that category.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Gidea Park Library
- Lodge Farm Park
- Gidea Park Primary School
- The Royal Liberty School

I. Heaton & Hilldene (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 14,281 (19% variance)

Heaton & Hilldene ward stretches along Straight Road from Gallows Corner roundabout and north towards Noak Hill. Most residential in character it comprises a large area of the Harold Hill estate.

Harold Hill is a post-war construction designed to house the overspill population of London. Much of the estate's architecture and planning remains to this day and its residents identify themselves as being part of the Harold Hill community.

The hustle and bustle of everyday life in the ward is located in the shopping precinct along Farnham Road. The precinct also is home to Harold Hill Library and the local Post Office.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Hildene Primary School
- St Ursula's RC Junior School
- Broadford Primary School
- Mead Primary School
- St George's Church

m. Hylands (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 12,998 (8% variance)

Hylands ward is situated to the south-east of Romford, moving in to the Hornchurch area. Predominantly residential in character, the ward is serviced by the A124 Hornchurch Road which links Romford and Dagenham to the west with Hornchurch to the east and runs horizontally through the ward; and the A125 Upper Rainham Road which links Romford with Elm Park and Rainham to the south. Many of the roads within the ward adjoin the A124 and A125 with many local amenities running along those main roads.

Hylands is home to the popular Hornchurch Sports Centre, Hornchurch Cricket Club and Hornchurch Indoor Bowls Club. In close proximity is the St. Leonard's Hamlet which is one of the borough's Conservation Areas. The Conservation Area is a former children's 'village', the St Leonard's Cottage homes, built in 1889 on an 80 acre site and converted in 1984 to provide open market housing.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- Hylands Park

- Frances Bardsley School
- Hylands Primary School
- St Mary's RC Church
- St Mary's Primary School
- Hornchurch Primary School

n. Mawney (2 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 8,841 (10% variance)

Mawney ward is located to the north-west of Romford town centre, running north along the borough boundary with the London Borough of Redbridge to the west and along the B175 to the east.

The ward is mostly residential in character. At its southern end, the ward runs along the Romford Town Centre ring road which is a strong boundary and broadly follows the B174 to its northern reaches.

Collier Row Lane, Collier Row Road, Havering Road, White Hart Lane, Mawney Road and Cross Road are key to the road network in the area and which help form the communities who live in adjoining roads.

The River Rom runs through vertically through the centre of the ward, leading through to Romford Town Centre where the boundary ends.

Local amenities and shopping parades are located through the ward, principally to the north by the Collier Row Roundabout.

There are several other features in this area which help to define the ward including:

- King George's Playing Fields
- Collier Row Post Office
- Crownfield Infant and Junior School

o. Oldchurch (2 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 7,195 (-10% variance)

Oldchurch ward is located west of Romford town centre, bordering the London Borough of Barking Dagenham. Its northern boundary runs along the TfL and Greater Anglia railway line and is a strong border.

It is characterised by a mixture of residential and commercial activity (predominantly along Crow Lane) with plenty of green open spaces with the Fords Sports Ground, Crowlands Sports Ground, Crowlands Heath Golf Course and Westlands Paying Fields used for sport and recreational purposes.

To the east of the ward is the Romford ring road which also serves as a significant ward boundary to the town centre and the residential areas of the ward which abut it.

In recent years there has been significant residential development and there is more planned in the coming years, as reflected in the projected population increase and the creation of a new ward. In recent years the site of the former Oldchurch hospital to the east of the Gas Works along Oldchurch Road has been redeveloped for residential purposes, the extent to which has resulted in the building of a primary school on the development site.

Queen's hospital features prominently in ward. The hospital is the primary accident and emergency facility in the borough.

p. Rainham (3 Member Ward)
Projected Electorate (2025): 10,156 (-16% variance)

Rainham ward is located in the south of the borough, running along the River Thames on its southern border. The boundary line to the west follows the River Ingrebourne in a northerly direction.

The ward comprises a mix of residential, open space, industrial and commercial uses. The ward's positioning next to
