Other	I have a child who will start in September 2022	I am concerned about the proposed reduction in the Rainham Village school PAN to go from 90 to 60. My child is due to start in September 2022, we live in Rainham. There is an enormous amount of new builds coming within Rainham and to reduce a local school from 90 to 60 could potentially push parents further away from their local schools. This could also have an impact on Parsonage Primary which is our local school.	2020-12-04 09:24:56	2020-12-04 09:24:56	open	2020-12-04 09:25:12
I am a parent of a child who attends a Havering Infant or Primary School		I would like to see an effort made to improve under performing schools instead of expanding those doing well (eg Branfil) which results in huge volumes of kids from outside the area coming in which is detrimental for the ability for people to walk or cycle to school resulting in more traffic and pollution to local area	2020-12-04 11:17:59	2020-12-04 11:17:59	open	2020-12-04 11:18:05

I do not have children in a Havering school but I do live in Havering		We need to reduce or move the 1st and 2nd criteria for entry placements, sibling should be number one , parents cannot go to different school for collecting and drop off , parents have work commitments, and it would be bad for the environment, bad for sibling, bad for teachers , bad for families in general. Siblings number one on entry criteria then the others behind . It's just common sense	2020-12-05 09:22:47	2020-12-05 09:17:03	open	2020-12-05 09:22:57

I am a parent of a child who attends a Havering Infant or Primary School		With the the proposal of Rainham Village and Newton's primary school, based close to the new builds that are taking place along the A1306 at present, (New road Rainham and Beam Reach) reducing by a class size the need for child placements will be greater than they are now, so reducing these schools by a class size would be futile, and put greater pressure on the other schools? Haven't a lot of schools in Havering in the last few years increased in capacity for the influx of extra children the constant building in Havering has produced? While the building work continues why reduce the capacity in schools? especially ones close to the current building schemes.	2020-12-11 22:08:16	2020-12-10 22:25:07	open	2020-12-11 22:08:24
