CAUTION - External email

Hi Claire,

We are attending the Planning Portal's virtual conference this week.

Are you looking for a planning application validation service (PAVS) or back office planning software which is capable of managing the process of validation? If the latter we can certainly assist but if you are looking for PAVS then I'm afraid we do not offer such a service. If PAVS is the requirement then I would suggest you contact TerraQuest who are one of our strategic partners.

If you require any further information please do get back to me.

Kind regards,
Graeme

Hi Graeme/Paul,

I'm reaching out to you from the procurement team at London Borough of Havering. We are currently exploring options for planning application validations and wondering if your organisation is able to support.

I understand you are in meetings today but if you can contact me tomorrow that will be really appreciated.

Thanks,
Claire

Hi Claire,

Thanks for your email. Unfortunately we don't cover planning (we are focused on waste management and environmental services) and don't provide a Planning Application Validation Service (PAVS).

If you've any other questions, please get in touch.

Thanks
 Joel

Good afternoon Catherine,

It was nice speaking with you earlier today. I appreciate we were unable to assist regarding the council's planning validation service requirements, however if in the future you are looking to replace Ocella with a modern cloud based service please do not hesitate to get in touch directly.

My contact details are in the signature block below.

COVID-19 Update

We continue to support all our customers and business activity continues as usual, adhering to the latest government guidelines on safe working practices. Staff are still predominantly and successfully working from home unless there is a business need to be in the office or on a customer's site, in which case a full health and safety review will take place and modifications made.
