LICENSING SUB-COMMITTEE

REPORT

19 December 2012

Subject heading:

Report author and contact details:

Romford Mini Market 84 South Street Romford RM1 1RX Temporary event notice Paul Jones, Licensing Officer 5th floor Mercury House

These three temporary event notices were given by Mr Gul Chopra under section 100 of the Licensing Act 2003. The notifications were received by Havering's Licensing Authority on 6th and 7th December 2012.

Geographical description of the area and description of the building

Romford Mini Market is located in Romford's South Street. The immediate vicinity is predominantly commercial, although there are residential properties above this parade of commercial outlets. This particular section of South Street has sixteen licensed premises within a 100 metre radius of this outlet.

Details of the notification

Romford Mini Market benefits from a premises licence currently. The current premises licence hours are as follows:

Supply of alcohol (off premises)
Day	Start	Finish
Monday to Sunday	08:00	21:30

The premises user has notified the appropriate authorities that the following licensable activity is to be provided at the premises as detailed below:

Supply of alcohol (off premises)
Day	Start	Finish
21 st -24 th December 2012	21:30	23:30
26 th -27 th December 2012	21:30	23:30
29 th -31 st December 2012	21:30	23:30

Comments and observations on the notifications

The guidance to the Act does not define or suggest what might reasonably be considered an 'event' with regard to a TEN; however, section 2 of the TEN form requires a description of the event to be provided. In relation to this description guidance note 5 on the TEN form provides examples of the considerations to be made when defining the nature of the event:

Note 5

A description of the nature of the event similarly assists the chief officer of police and local authority exercising environmental health functions in making a decision as to whether or not to make an objection. You should state clearly that the event taking place at the premises would be, for example, a wedding with a pay bar, the supply of beer at a particular farmers' market, a discotheque, the performance of a string quartet, a folk group or a rock band.

Based upon the examples provided within note 5 it might appear to suggest that for the purposes of a temporary event notice an 'event' is something out of the ordinary, something which, by its definition as a 'temporary' event, does not normally occur. The premises user has defined his 'event' as an 'extended festive season opening'. One might reasonably question, therefore, whether a TEN should be used in these specific circumstances simply to extend the normal hours of business operation at the venue permitted by the extant premises licence, a licence whose hours and conditions were determined by the Licensing Sub-Committee at a previous hearing.

The over-riding question which presents itself for consideration might be summarised thus: are the events for which the TENs seek authorisation legitimate events in the normally understood meaning of the word and for which the Act intended their use?

Summary

Section 106(2) of the Act permits a TEN to be modified, prior to a hearing to determine the matter, with the agreement of all relevant parties in order that any objection notices may be withdrawn. At the time of writing this report no modification agreement had been offered or agreed.

Section 106A(2)(a) of the Act permits the Licensing Authority to impose one or more conditions on a TEN where the authority considers it appropriate for the promotion of the licensing objectives to do so, if the Authority is minded to permit the TEN to go ahead. Such conditions may relate to the licensable activities permitted and their terminal hours.

Section 105(2)(b) of the Act permits the Licensing Authority to issue a counter notice against the TEN preventing it from going ahead if the Authority is so minded.

Police objection notice

PC Fern submitted an objection notice with regard to these three TENs on behalf of the Metropolitan Police. PC Fern contends that if these events were to go ahead they would have a negative impact on the licensing objectives regarding the prevention of crime and disorder and the prevention of public nuisance. PC Fern's objection notice also asserts that the area in which the premises is located is a designated cumulative impact zone and as such, the TENs as submitted, would add to the cumulative impact upon the licensing objectives.

Police wish to make representation against the three temporary event notices received for Romford Mini Market, 84 South Street, RM1.

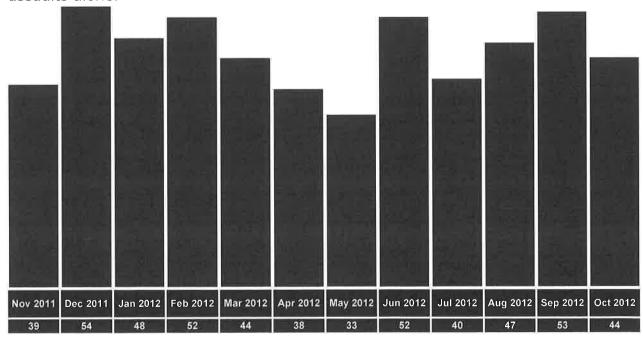

21st - 24th December 2012

26th - 27th December 2012

29th - 31st December 2012

The police believed that the granting of additional hours during such times requested 2130 - 2330 hours would have a negative impact on the licensing objective, Prevention of crime and disorder along with public nuisance.

The hours requested will lead to cumulative impact in an area already identified as being under stress. This will simply encourage patrons to buy cheap alcohol and consume it in the streets within the designated no drinking zone. Alcohol fuelled crime and disorder is higher in the month of December historically. I have enclosed the crime data from last year, which clearly shows violence against the person in December resulted in 54 such incidents. The highest month so far, this relates to assaults alone.

I would suggest that the majority of these assaults involved alcohol. GBH and ABH data attached please note the peak of times falls within the requested hours.

It is anticipated that this period requested for additional hours will be predominately busy in the night time economy of Romford, mainly due to the Christmas holiday period and many being off work. I would suggest that this application is purely profit driven with no consideration for the cumulative impact within the zone.

Bars and clubs within the town centre often get the blamed for alcohol fuelled violence, despite employing door staff and having stricter control measures. Off licences have very little responsibility beyond the point of sale.

Below is some of the text from a recent compliant made by the manager of a pub in South Street, RM1.

This afternoon at approximately 12.30pm I used the pubwatch radio to contact "mercury" and request police assistance. We had 3 male customers who were clearly intoxicated, sitting outside the front of the pub shouting abuse at passers by and at my staff and customers, I went out to them and they started to verbally abuse me, I'm not talking just petty name calling, they were extremely verbally abusive and I personally felt very threatened.

I asked my staff who had served them as they were clearly drunk, after I checked the CCTV I found they had been across the road and bought alcohol from the newsagents and were sitting, drinking it in our smoking area. I asked them to leave however they carried on with the abuse so at this point I called mercury for some assistance.

There is evidence to suggest that off licences contribute to the difficulties in the town centre, all alcohol confiscations made which are daily are a direct result off licences, who sell and then the alcohol is consumed in the streets.

Police believe that granting additional hours will lead to pre loading of patrons in the night time economy; it is not families do their family shop at such hours. This will lead to more alcohol fuelled violence both on and off premises, rise in assaults and public nuisance.

There are very few off licences in the strip of South Street open until such hours. This operator applied additional hours in January this year, at the hearing the applicant reduce his hours to close at 2130 instead of 2300 hours. This operator is well aware of the problems within the town centre.

The applicant has also been of interest to the police recently on 19th September 2012 for selling alleged counterfeit alcohol, along with non duty paid cigarettes. This matter was referred to customs and excise for a full investigation. Police feel that the applicant has failed to promote the licensing act under the prevention of crime aspect. Police hold intelligence reports on the selling of non duty paid cigarettes

The Metropolitan Police ask the committee to refuse the application for the extension of hours during the dates requested.

If I can be of any further assistance in this matter please do not hesitate to contact me in the licensing office.

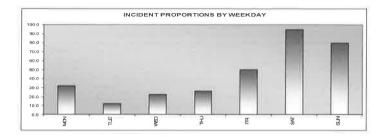

Yours sincerely

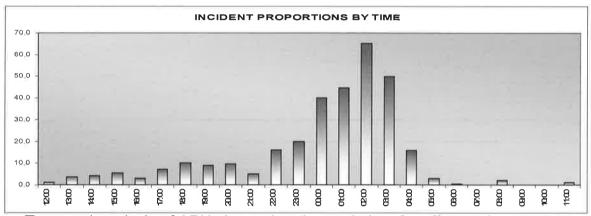

PC David Fern

Metropolitan Police - Havering Licensing officer.

FIVE YEAR DATA Current 01/01/2012

Temporal analysis of GBH offences shows that the peak time for offences is between the hours of 2200-0400 with 79.5% of offences within this time period.
